I. NEISON MANDELA: A PRINCE AMONG POLITICAL PRISONERS

Statement by H.E. Alhaji Yusuff Maitama-Sule, Chairman of the Special Committee against Apartheid and Permanent Representative of Nigeria to the United Nations on the twentieth anniversary of the arrest of Nelson Mandela (5 August).

Nelson Rolihlahla Mandela was arrested twenty years ago - on August 5, 1962 - for going underground to lead the campaign against the establishment of a racist republic by decision of white voters only and for leaving South Africa without a passport to meet the Heads of State and other leaders of newly-independent African countries. He was sentenced in November to six years imprisonment. While in prison, he was again brought to trial as accused number one in the "Rivonia Trial" and was sentenced in June 1964 to life imprisonment. The statements he made from the dock in November 1962 and April 1964 are among the greatest documents in humanity's struggle for freedom and racial equality.

Mr. Mandela told the court in November 1962:

"I hate the practice of race discrimination, and in my hatred I am sustained by the fact that the overwhelming majority of mankind hate it equally ...

"Nothing that this court can do to me will change in any way that hatred in me, which can only be removed by the removal of the injustice and inhumanity which I have sought to remove from the political, social and economic life of this country."

He told the court in April 1964:

"During my life time I have dedicated myself to the struggle of the African people. I have fought against white domination and I have fought against black domination. I have cherished the ideal of a democratic and free society in which all persons live together in harmony and with equal opportunities. It is an ideal which I hope to live for and I hope to achieve. But if need be, it is an ideal for which I am prepared to die."

Nelson Mandela, a descendant of a princely family in the Transkei, joined the liberation movement in 1944 as a young militant espousing a positive action programme to achieve the ideals of the Atlantic Charter. A charismatic leader, he became the volunteer-in-chief of the "Campaign of Defiance of Unjust Laws" in 1952 in which over 8,000 persons courted imprisonment. He was accused in the notorious "treason trial" of the leaders of the people from 1955 to 1961. He led the campaign against the racist republic in May 1961. When that campaign was suppressed by a massive show of force, he became the leader of Unkhonto we Sizwe ("Spear of the Nation"), the underground movement for armed struggle for liberation.

After twenty years in Jail, Nelson Mandela remains the symbol of resistance and the respected leader of the people of South Africa. Many leaders and organizations abroad - including the United Nations, the European Parliament, Heads of State, parliaments, churches and trade unions - have demanded the unconditional release of Nelson Mandela and all other political prisoners.

They have recognized that Nelson Mandela and his colleagues are the true leaders of the people, loyal to the cherished aspirations of humanity, while the rulers of South Africa practice the obnoxious policy of apartheid, a crime against humanity.

They have recognized further that there can be no peaceful solution in South Africa without the liberation and leadership of Nelson Mandela. The Special Committee against Apartheid will launch a world-wide campaign for the release of Nelson Mandela and all other South African political prisoners on the twentieth anniversary of his imprisonment.

II. TEXT OF THE DECLARATION

I, the Mayor of _____ am convinced of the need to bring about the end of the practice of apartheid in South Africa. I therefore appeal to the Government of South Africa to release immediately and unconditionally all prisoners detained for their political views under their Apartheid Laws. Release of such prisoners from long years of imprisonment would help bring about a spirit of reconciliation. I hereby proclaim my support and feelings of solidarity with political detainees in South Africa and all in particular for the immediate release of Nelson Mandela.
